No.7

Welcome to Priory Country Park, owned and managed by Bedford Borough Council.

Priory Country Park

Nestled within a bend in the River Great Ouse, the Park's 360 acres of lakes, meadows and woodland have something for everyone to enjoy. Whether you want to watch the wildlife or go for a bike ride, the park is a great place for a day out.

History

There has been human occupation of the area occupied by the park since the Bronze age. Evidence for this was discovered in an archeological survey prior to mineral extraction.

An Augustinian Priory stood on the area now occupied by Aspects Leisure Complex and the Athletic Stadium, from the middle of the twelfth century until the dissolution of the monasteries in 1539. The only visible remnants of this are the fishponds in the north-west corner of the park. There was a Roman Villa where Priory Lake now stands, between the island and the sailing clubhouse.

Since Roman times the area has been farmland, both arable and flood meadow, until the Second World War. The wall (Scheduled Ancient Monument) that runs alongside the marina is constructed from the stones of the Priory (and includes some Roman material) and was the boundary feature for a large house built by the Gostwick family in the late sixteenth century.

In the 1960's and 70's most of the rest of the site was excavated for gravel resulting in the formation of the main Priory Lake and the Marina. The first part of the exhausted pits was in-filled with domestic refuse and covered with ash from the nearby Goldington power station (since demolished), and then capped with clay and covered with topsoil. The main car parks, Visitor Centre and a large proportion of the New Meadow lie on top of this former corporation tip.

The Main Lake and the Finger Lake were created from the remaining ex-gravel pits. The lakes rapidly became important for wildlife and the area became a Country Park in 1986.

Refreshments

Ice Cream

The Ice cream van can be found outside the Visitor Centre on most weekends and throughout the school holidays.

Walking

There are three way-marked walks around the park, or if you prefer you can just wander and make your own trail.

Green: This is a more secluded walk around the Finger Lake conservation area, of approx. 1 mile.

This trail includes steps and can be muddy at times.

Red: This is a longer walk taking in most of the park, including parts of the river, which is about four miles.

Please see the separate trail leaflets available from the Visitor Centre.
