When it comes to live entertainment, theatre, music or the arts, the Peak District always strikes the right chord.

Tune into everything from acoustic rock to classical pieces, or cutting-edge comedy to rarely-performed operas – everywhere from pubs, bars and small performance spaces to traditional theatres and slick city arenas.

Lap up some literature, dip into performance poetry or marvel at breathtaking arts, crafts and photography at a host of events throughout the year.

Whether you have a penchant for Gilbert & Sullivan, passion for high drama or prefer the pace and spectacle of live street performance, you’ll find the perfect pitch.

Times of shows vary.
ADMISSION: Prices for shows vary and some are free.

Buxton is a beautiful, historic spa town in the picturesque Peak District but with excellent transport links to the rest of England. Buxton Festival Fringe runs in parallel with Buxton Festival (albeit this year with the slightly different dates of July 3-21). It offers a spectacular programme of theatre, comedy, music, film, exhibitions, poetry, children’s events and more.

One of the largest Fringes in England, it features some 500 events in a variety of venues in Buxton and beyond with many performers using it as a warm up to Edinburgh. Attractions include Fringe Sunday - a free afternoon sampler at the Pavilion Gardens on July 7 from 2-4.30pm.

The Fringe is open to all with no selection or censorship.

The programme is published in early June and on www.buxtonfringe.org.uk, where you can order a printed programme and learn how to become a Fringe Friend gaining 10% off ticket prices. During the Fringe itself you can find reviews of shows and some cool merchandise at the handy Fringe Information Desk located at the conservatory entrance to the Pavilion Gardens next to the Opera House. Do come and see us and don’t forget to wave on the Fringe float at the town’s popular carnival on July 13. You can also follow us on Facebook and Twitter.

CHESTERFIELD MEDIEVAL MARKET

Market Place, Chesterfield
Derbyshire S40 1PB
T: 01246 345777/8
E: tourism@chesterfield.gov.uk
www.visitchesterfield.info

OPEN: Tues 30 Jul 2013
10am – 4pm
ADMISSION: Free.

Come to Chesterfield town centre as it steps back in time to the Middle Ages. Visit the Medieval encampment in the grounds of the town’s famous ‘Crooked Spire’ Church where you can find knights and ladies, see skirmishes and find out how much all that armour weighs! Take time out to climb the Church Tower for a close-up look at the Spire and a panoramic view of all the fantastic festivities in the Market, as well as the fun fair.

Don’t miss Heironymous Slop, the Court Jester as he juggles and unicycles around Rykneld Square outside the Visitor Information Centre and asks for your help in death defying feats! Keep an eye out for Medieval characters around the Market. Call in at the Museum to meet a Medieval Miller and find out how bread was made in the Middle Ages.

Medieval stallholders will be selling all manner of goods – from home made cakes and preserves to books and bric-a-brac. Try your luck at games of chance or knock someone off the ducking stool. There’s never a dull moment at the Medieval Market.
