VISIT THE PEAK DISTRICT ARTISANS

Established in 1991, Peak District Artisans is a highly successful association of professional fine artists, designers, makers and artisans based in and around the Peak District. Many members are award winning and internationally renowned in their field.

Over 30 PDA members have a gallery, shop, studio or workshop you can visit.

Watch the fascinating process of pots being thrown, wood carved or stone sculpted; browse work in a gallery whilst being able to discuss the creative process with the maker.

Our new Peak District Artisans leaflet lists all members and shows those who open their premises to the public.

HOW TO USE THIS GUIDE

This guide shows you where the members of Peak District Artisans are based in and around the North East, North West and South areas of the Peak District. It not only lists all of our members, but also shows those who open their premises to the public. Many members have workshops, galleries or shops, others have studios.

Feel free to come and look, chat and sometimes even watch the action.

WORKSHOPS & TUITION

Why not enjoy a creative break amidst beautiful scenery?

Workshops run throughout the year by Peak District Artisan members offer you the chance to explore, experiment and experience new challenges with the guidance of professional artisans and artists in the stunning surroundings of the Peak District. This can include one-to-one tuition as well as bespoke whole or half-day workshops for groups. There are a wide selection of activities to take part in; from stone carving with Andy Oldfield (as seen on BBC 2’s Mastercrafts) at The Fringe Workshop, to black and white landscape photography with internationally acclaimed photographer Dave Butcher - through to painting, stained glass, pottery, silk painting and mixed media to name but a few. These activities cater for a range of ability levels; from taster days for beginners through to workshops for those who want to develop existing skills. Some Peak District Artisan members also offer Continuous Professional Development which allows professionals to maintain, improve or broaden the knowledge and skills that are required in their professional lives.

Information about workshops can be found at www.peakdistrictartisans.co.uk

Please contact the individual members directly to make a booking.
