Hollands Wood, Brockenhurst to Beechen Lane, Lyndhurst

Route Information

Off road except for 0.2 of a mile on a quiet lane at Lyndhurst end. An ideal way to cycle from Lyndhurst to Brockenhurst or vice versa. Cycle through Forestry Commission Inclosures that take you from the edge of Brockenhurst village, to Lyndhurst, via a network of gravel tracks in the heart of the Forest. Look out for deer, ponies and if you're very lucky a free range pig!

Brockenhurst Village

One of the largest villages in the heart of the New Forest National Park. It is well known for the diversity of its shops, tea houses, pubs and high quality restaurants. It is here that ponies and donkeys roam freely and drink from 'The Watersplash' at the bottom of the main street on their way to graze on the open heathland and ancient woods which surround the village

Lyndhurst Village

Often regarded as the "Capital" of the New Forest, with its museum, cycle hire, shops, pubs and district council offices. The village skyline is dominated by St Michael and All Angels Church where, in the churchyard, lies the grave of Alice Liddell, Lewis Carroll's inspiration for 'Alice in Wonderland'.
