Tickets Selling Out Fast

The Spring Bank Holiday will see the city of Coventry burst into life with the sounds and vibrations of top class world music. This year the much loved and respected Coventry Jazz festival has extended its remit to incorporate and encompass a more varied scope of musical styles. The dynamic festival has been rebranded as the Coventry Rhythm Weekend and over the 27th – 30th May.

With an exciting Line up including Pauline Black, Louisiana Red, Michael Messer, Bassekou Kouyate, Surinder Sandhu, Roger Heeley, Mark Nightingale and James Hunter to name but a few. Fans can expect to indulge themselves in an array of genres ranging from jazz to reggae, with everything between. The four day event will incorporate both free and paid for gigs throughout the city, to book tickets please call the Belgrade Box Office on: 024 7655 3055 or visit www.belgrade.co.uk.

Mick McLaughlin, Marketing and Communications Manager for CV one ltd said:

“We are really pleased with the initial reception to the Rhythm Weekend, I would urge all those who have not yet booked tickets to do so as soon as possible to avoid disappointment. We are thrilled to have integrated a wide variety of musical styles into the existing remit of the hugely popular Jazz Festival.”
