

Millington Dale & Warter

17.5 miles (28km)
from Pocklington

This route winds up through Millington Dale, another classic Wolds dry valley, to Huggate, one of the highest villages on the Wolds, then across Warter Wold to Warter, an attractive estate village whose striking church is home to the Yorkshire Wolds Heritage Centre (usually open). Wooded lanes through Nunburnholme and Burnby lead you back to Pocklington, and the Burnby Hall Gardens with the biggest collection of hardy water lilies in a natural setting in Europe.

Heading for Nunburnholme © Jonathan Tait

Fields of barley, near Huggate © Cooper Douglas

Route information

Grade: Medium - Moderate
All on road

Start/finish: Pocklington Arts Centre (in Market Place) – free car parking nearby is signed. Car park at Warter school is an alternative start point

Refreshments: Choice in Pocklington; café at Kilwick Percy buddhist centre and at golf club; tearoom and pub in Millington; pub in Huggate

Public loos: In Pocklington

1 Turn L along Market Place, L into one-way Regent Street, then L again (following blue 66 signs briefly). Keep SA and turn R at T-jct

3 At Millington turn R into village and R again at X-roads towards Huggate

2 Turn L towards Kilwick Percy

10 Turn L at T-jct, then first R (one-way Deans Lane) to return to Market Place

6 Turn R at T-jct (taking extra care), then L past church at stone cross (passing car park)

7 Turn L to leave village

8 Turn R at T-jct, bearing L over bridge through village to Burnby

9 At Burnby bear R by church and follow blue 66 signs back to Pocklington

5 Turn R at staggered crossroads towards Warter

4 Bear L to Huggate (and York!)

↑ 1km (0.6miles) ↓

Millington Dale © Jonathan Tait

