

Bull Ring Pod & Wakefield Cathedral Precinct

Drop into the Bull Ring Pod and enjoy rhubarb talks, music and real ale and cider.

Rhubarb Jam

Join Wakefield College, Jilley Riley and Scott Wainwright for live music sessions. Real ale and cidar bar open.

Brought to you by Wakefield Music Collective

Admission is free but seats are limited

Thursday 23rd: 6.30 to 10pm

Rhubarb Jam II

Don't miss this chance to hear Hannah Atkins perform three sets during the evening. Hannah's effortless vocals mix with piano guitar and violin. Brought to you by Wakefield Music Collective

Admission is free but seats are limited

Friday: 6.30 to 10pm

The Great Book of Rhubarb Talk and Book Signing

Elaine Lemm hails from Yorkshire. She is a freelance food and wine editor.

If you have ever wondered why rhubarb has become synonymous with Yorkshire then join Elaine for "The Great Book of Rhubarb" talk. The book will be available to buy at Wakefield Tourist Information centre throughout the festival.

Saturday: 12.45 to 1.45pm

Real Ale & Cider Bar & Music

Enjoy real ale and ciders from The Cricketers Arms, Horbury including rhubarb ale brewed in their sister pub, The Sportsman in Huddersfield. Cider from Pure North Cider Press and botanical Soft drinks from Fentimans compliment the real ale experience.

Thursday (23rd): 6pm to 9.30pm during live music set

Friday: 10am to 4pm and 6pm to 9.30pm during live music set

Saturday: 10am to 4pm Sunday: 10am to 3pm

Wakefield Cathedral Precinct

Alongside hot food and market stalls, join in with fun activities from Yorkshire Sculpture Park, The Hepworth Wakefield and Incredible Edible.