Bradford 2025 - Talk To Us

The title for UK City of Culture is awarded every four years by Government, it has the potential to transform a city, securing millions of pounds of investment. Join Pakeezah Zahoor, Programme and Community Coordinator at Bradford 2025, in this informal conversation about what Bradford means to you. What do you love about the city? What do you need from it? What can you do for it? Next year, Bradford will bid to become UK City of Culture 2025, so we want to talk with the people who live here - with your help we know we can win it.

Born and raised in Bradford, Pakeezah Zahoor has held roles in a number of cultural organizations locally, working on both the Ilkley and Bradford literature festivals her experience in arts events has been focussed on programming and community engagement. She has a background in postcolonial studies and is passionate about people.

Wednesday 28th October, 1pm – 2.30pm

Inter-Community Talks

Programme

Theatre, asylum and sanctuary – a conversation with Alex Chisholm, Co-Artistic Director of Freedom Studios.

Maria Rovisco will be in conversation with Alex Chisholm about the ways in which theatre can positively transform the lives of people seeking sanctuary. Alex will talk about Freedom Studios' work with refugee and asylum seeker communities in the city of Bradford. We will also open up the conversation to discuss whether and how theatre can be a tool of social change and inclusion.

Freedom Studios is a contemporary theatre company based in Bradford creating original, high quality theatre in non-theatre spaces, supporting and developing creatives.

Delivered by Freedom studios, Alex Chisholm. Hosted by Maria Rovisco (School of Sociology and Social Policy, University of Leeds).
